

Veterinary Services Policy

Blue Grass Livestock Marketing and the veterinarians that provide services to us are proud to offer you the customer the convenience of access to veterinary services on cattle that you have purchased through our sales. Any of these services that you choose to utilize are not a function of the sale of the animals but a convenience to you the buyer. There is inherent risk to handling, processing and administering management techniques and animal health products to animals. Blue Grass nor the veterinarians providing these services accept no liability for damage or death of animals as a result of normal veterinary services performed on animals after their sale is complete.

Blue Grass Management